APPLICATION FOR A CERTIFICATE OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

1. Information Requirements

The basic requirements of an Application for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (“CPCN”) are outlined on pages 2 and 3 of this document. The scope of the information requirements for a specific Application will depend on the nature of the project and the issues that it raises.

Project proponents are encouraged to initiate discussions with appropriate government agencies and the public, including any affected First Nations groups, very early in the project planning stage, in order to obtain an appreciation of the issues to be addressed prior to the filing of the Application.

2. Application Procedure

An Application for a CPCN, pursuant to Sections 45 and 46 of the Utilities Commission Act, shall be made to the Secretary, British Columbia Utilities Commission, Sixth Floor, 900 Howe Street, Box 250, Vancouver, B.C. V6Z 2N3. Initially, twelve copies of the completed signed Application must be submitted.

Applications are normally considered public documents and will be made public, except where special circumstances require confidentiality.

The filed Application is initially reviewed by Commission staff for possible deficiencies, and this will normally generate a staff Information Request for response by the Applicant.

Once the additional information is received, the Application is reviewed by the Commission in the context of project justification, issues and concerns raised, as well as general project suitability, and a determination made on disposition as follows:

- (a) Whether a CPCN should be granted without further input from the proponent or other interested parties.
- (b) Whether further information from the proponent is required.
- (c) Whether a public hearing should be called.
- (d) Whether the Application should be rejected.

A successful review of the Application will result in a Commission Order to the Applicant embodying the Certificate. This Order may contain terms and conditions which the Commission believes are necessary to protect the public interest.
